"What's going on"

"Big" and "Grand" are what's been going on. That is big tent and staging installations and a wonderful Eric Le Grand book signing event. Eric LeGrand is the Rutgers football player who was paralyzed in October 2010 while playing in the Rutgers vs Army Game. Below are just a few highlights from this season.

The season kicked off with the Convocation events for incoming freshman at Rutgers University where we set up a 16'x 44'x 3' stage on the field at Highpoint Stadium. Next up was the setup of a 60'x160' all white rope and pole tent for the Inauguration of the NJIT's new president. The Ranney School, in Tinton Falls, hosted an event for NJ's private schools in two 40'x140' frame tents connected by a 140' gutter. The annual College of NJ's Community Fest took place early October, which included a 60'x130', 60'x100' and 30'x 60' rope and pole tents. There was also Forsgate Country Club's annual charity golf event where close to 500 bleacher seats were created from Biljax sections for the spectators. Miller's supplied balloon décor for the awesome book signing for Rutgers Football Player Eric LeGrand. We are never too busy to handle the finesse events for our very special client, www.kathygoldsteinevents.com which featured a 30'x60' gable end frame tent, complete with flooring, carpet, liner, lights and pole drapes as well as our extraordinary HBO client with red carpet premiers like Boardwalk Empire at the Ziegfeld Theater in NYC.

"Client Corner"

Jason Burlingame and Margaret Crisostomo, co-founders of STAMP Event Management love events. They specialize in the details and relish the challenges. You name it. They've dealt with it. And they promise to take care of it for you.

STAMP Event Management provides a good, thoughtful and thorough planning process that works for any event, keeping their clients involved every step of the way. They believe the success of an event is not just what happens on the day of, but in the many months leading up to it.

Production, design, guest management and logistics - STAMP handles everything needed for a successful and memorable event. Clients and events include: amfAR/The Foundation for AIDS Research, Showtime, GQ's The Gentlemen's Fund, press events for The Tony Awards, The Trevor Project, Opening Nights for Ghost and Priscilla Queen

"Stand your ground"

When it comes to anchoring your tent, we take it seriously. New to our inventory are these 1500 lbs block. Many times staking can't be used due to the type of surface or the uncertainty of what is under the ground. Rest assured your tent will not move when these weights are set in place.
